

Tech Stack Decision

We decided to use React.js and Express.js as our frontend and backend respectively because we wanted to have experience working with decoupled architecture and these frameworks are in good demand as well. We are also using MongoDB as our backend. The benefit of using React.js, Express.js, and MongoDB is that all of them use JavaScript which makes development easier.